

Introducing Starry

- Starry is a next-generation fixed wireless internet service provider, offering affordable high-speed, uncapped internet access.
- Starry is currently serving subscribers in Boston, Los Angeles, New York, Denver and DC with a national expansion roadmap that covers 40 million U.S. households.
- Today, Starry is focused on serving urban areas with its point-to-multipoint fixed wireless technology, which provides gigabit-quality coverage across a city with only dozens, not thousands, of transmitting sites.
- Starry works in partnership with building owners and managers to bring its new competitive service to their residents.
- Starry also works collaboratively with communities and their public and affordable housing owners to provide free and low-cost internet access through its digital equity program, Starry Connect.

Introducing Starry

Starry's 'last-mile' connection is wireless, which means we can build our network and connect households with little to no disruption to the communities we serve. We don't have to tear up sidewalks and streets to serve a neighborhood with competitive broadband service and Starry's advanced point-to-multipoint antenna technology is deployed on rooftops, not public rights of way.
